

RACING IMPROVES THE BREED

There is an old saying that “ Racing improves the breed”.

Like so many human endeavours... as soon as the first cars were built ... they were raced.

The history of Australian motor sport has a tremendous heritage and some of it will be captured at this year's Historic Winton when another large group of “Great Aussie Specials” will be showcased both on and off the track.

These unique locally made vehicles reflect the colour and excitement of our early motor racing years and they continue to entertain car enthusiasts of all ages.

One of the most interesting aspects of Historic Winton is that it is not the drivers that bring out the huge number of dedicated race fans to our meeting - it is the cars -

“OUR CARS ARE THE STARS”

Most of our Great Aussie Specials will appear in Historic competition events throughout the weekend as well as forming part of a special static display within the pit area.

Whilst there maybe some debate amongst the purists about the merits of our featured vehicles, we have purposely included a wide representation of Historic Specials in order to illustrate the development of these vehicles over the decades rather than a certain period of time.

We have even included some recent creations that have been built recently in the style of a bygone era using period components. The tradition of our Great Aussie Specials still continues.

It is rare that such a large group of Great Aussie Specials appear together on the track and Historic Winton is proud to again enhance its reputation as Australia's Premiere All Historic Motor Race Meeting.

This year's event will be our 31st. Something that the Austin Seven Club as organizers is extremely proud of. We hope that you will join us at Historic Winton.
